

Rimtautas Petraitis

Currently works as Deputy director at Lithuanian Agricultural Advisory Service (LAAS). His education is related to both agronomy (bachelor) and economic (master) degrees.

R. Petraitis permanently works and improves his qualification being a part in various agricultural, consulting, project and quality management projects, conferences, seminars, exhibitions. As a representer of LAAS he takes part in the meetings with the partners from other countries' Agricultural Advisory Services with the purpose to maintain and develop their partnership. Also cooperate with other local, regional, national and foreign organisations solving various questions concerning agriculture.